Revima introduces “READY2FLY ” the online platform for operators’ APU & Landing Gear needs

Revima, a leading independent MRO specialist, unveils at MRO AMERICAS its New Service READY2FLY, an innovative online platform that simplifies APU and Landing Gear exchange, leasing and sale.

Revima is proud to introduce READY2FLY, a cutting-edge online platform designed to streamline the exchange, lease, and sale of aircraft assets. With just a few clicks, customers can browse a wide selection of ready-to-go assets, request a quote within 24 hours, and complete transactions with fast and secure processing.

Backed by Revima’s certified MRO expertise, READY2FLY guarantees licensed shop quality, an exclusive 6-month warranty, and comprehensive after-sales support. By offering on-shelf assets with short lead times, the platform helps airlines, lessors and MROs minimize downtime and optimize their operations.

With seamless access to high-quality aircraft components, READY2FLY is the go-to solution for aviation professionals looking for reliability and efficiency.
