The Bayeux Tapestry

Each year visitors from around the world come to the world come to the museum to admire this key work of the Middle Ages. Listed “World Heritage” by UNESCO, the 70 meters long Tapestry recounts the Conquest of England by William, Duke of Normandy.

Normandy Landing Beaches

The Battle of Normandy

6th June 1944: the greatest battle of the Second World War began here, in Normandy. Normandy is a genuine open-air museum throughout which the vestiges of the D-Day Landing beaches and the Battle of Normandy are still visible to this very day: artillery batteries, bunkers, cemeteries... Signposted routes and several museums offer you a fascinating insight into the story of the Normandy Landings. Immerse yourself in this remarkable page in History over a guided tour of the D-Day Landing beaches during your stay in Normandy.

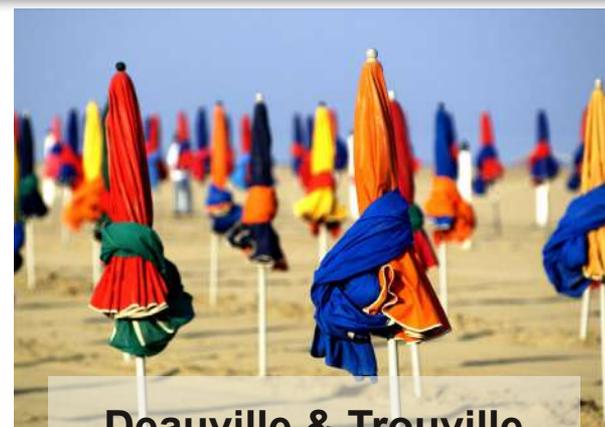

Cliffs of Etretat

Like most of the towns along this part of the coast, Etretat was built in a small flat area between two high cliffs. It can only expand inland and already takes all the available space along the coast.

Honfleur

Nice traditional fishing harbour located on the west side of the Seine Estuary. Lots of arts gallery and stylish sea food restaurant.

Deauville & Trouville

LE HAVRE

At the mouth of the Seine, the major port of Le Havre is a model of concrete grandeur. Devastated in World War II, with the boldness of its reconstruction, it's been declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Don't miss Le Havre's great waterside art museum, or the seaside pleasures of its marina and long pebble beach.

And remember Le Havre is an important cross-Channel ferry port.

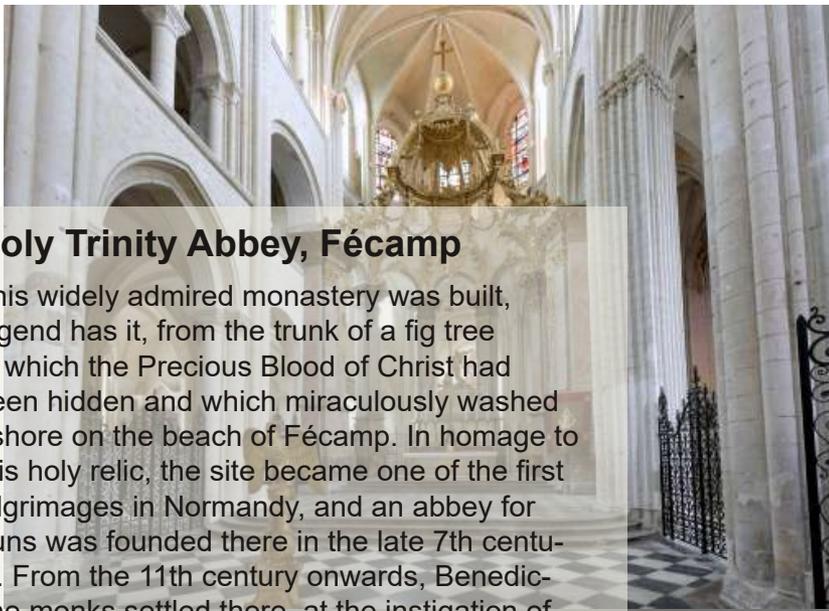

ROUEN

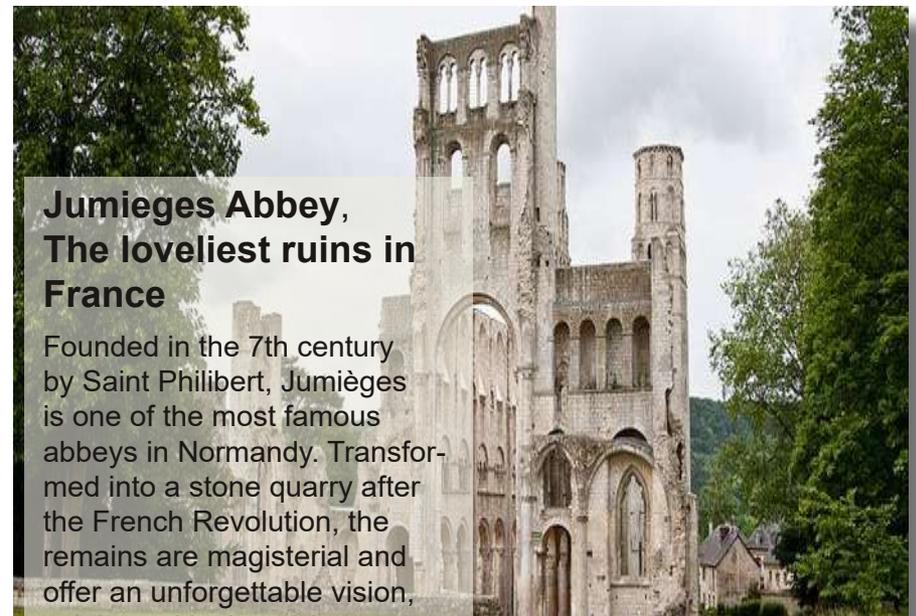

Port city and capital of Seine-Maritime departement, Haute-Normandie region, northwestern France. It is located about 125 km northwest of Paris, on the Seine River, and about 37 km of Revima.

Holy Trinity Abbey, Fécamp

This widely admired monastery was built, legend has it, from the trunk of a fig tree in which the Precious Blood of Christ had been hidden and which miraculously washed ashore on the beach of Fécamp. In homage to this holy relic, the site became one of the first pilgrimages in Normandy, and an abbey for nuns was founded there in the late 7th century. From the 11th century onwards, Benedictine monks settled there, at the instigation of the Duke of Normandy.

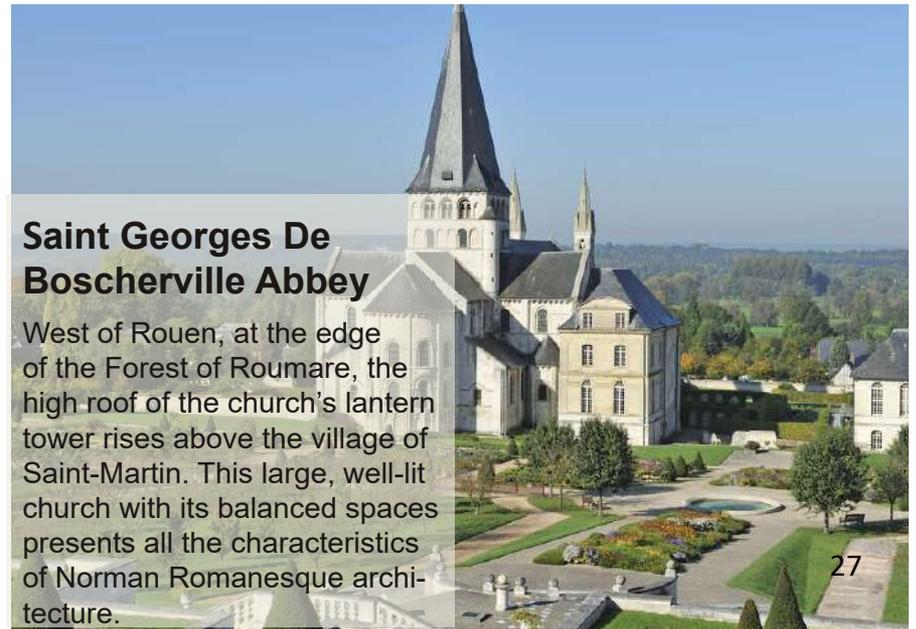

Jumieges Abbey, The loveliest ruins in France

Founded in the 7th century by Saint Philibert, Jumièges is one of the most famous abbeys in Normandy. Transformed into a stone quarry after the French Revolution, the remains are magisterial and offer an unforgettable vision, celebrated in the 19th century by Victor Hugo.

Taily Castle

It is a Renaissance building, begun in the 1530s, with additions from the 17th and 18th centuries that are in complete harmony. The large park offers pleasant views. The stables house an «August of «44» museum about the final days of the Battle of Normandy.

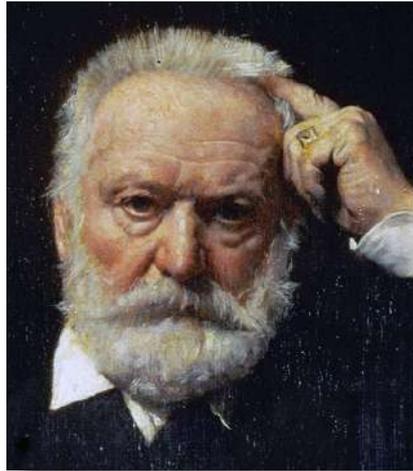

Saint Georges De Boscherville Abbey

West of Rouen, at the edge of the Forest of Roumare, the high roof of the church's lantern tower rises above the village of Saint-Martin. This large, well-lit church with its balanced spaces presents all the characteristics of Norman Romanesque architecture.

Maison Vacquerie - Victor Hugo Museum Villequier

This elegant 19th century home, which once belong to the Vacquerie family, stands on the edges of the Seine. The museum pays a moving tribute to the literary career of Victor Hugo, and displays souvenirs of Leopoldine, his daughter who drowned in the river in 1843.

Caudebec-en- Caux Church

Built at the turn of the 15th and 16th centuries, Notre Dame of Caudebec-en-Caux is one of the most representative buildings of flamboyant Gothic architecture.

Saint-Wandrille Abbey

Founded in 649 by Saint Wandrille, the abbey of Fontenelle valley is one of the oldest witnesses of the religious establishment in the valley of Caux Valley of Seine.
